

Will French Guiana reach 85% renewables by 2023?

French energy minister Ségolène Royal has signed a decree establishing an energy programme (PPE) for French Guiana, that aims to use solar, biomass and hydro to reach 85% renewables generation by 2023. The PPE for the region in South America was co-developed between France and the territorial community of French Guiana.

How does CEOG fit with French Guiana's energy strategy?

The population of French Guiana is very quickly increasing. Guiana has to face a considerable energy deficit, especially in the west where the demographic growth is booming. By providing several MW of reliable and clean energy, CEOG fits with French Guiana's energy strategy.

CEOG is an innovative multi-megawatt power plant designed to produce reliable and clean electricity. CEOG will provide cheaper and firm power all year long, day and night, to 10 000 homes in Western Guiana. Combining a photovoltaic plant and mass storage of energy in the form of hydrogen, CEOG is the alternative to a classic diesel power plant.

Solar energy also supplies a modest share of nearly 6%, and biofuels contribute close to 5%. On the other hand, just under a third of electricity in French Guiana is sourced from fossil fuels. The significant reliance on low-carbon energy sources highlights the region's commitment to reducing emissions and contributing to environmental ...

Together, the two facilities possess a combined capacity of 10 MW, generating sufficient energy to cover the annual electricity needs of close to 3,600 homes in French Guiana. In French Guiana, EDF now has eight solar facilities in service, including three that are equipped with battery storage systems.

Solar PV: Solar resource potential has been divided into seven classes, each representing a range of annual PV output per unit of capacity (kWh/kWp/yr). The bar chart shows the proportion of a country's land area in each of these classes and the global distribution of land area across the classes (for comparison).

In French Guiana, a region with high annual sunshine hours, the Group operates two photovoltaic power plants, Matoury and Kourou, located in areas free from conflicts of use. The larger of the two - and indeed the largest anywhere in Overseas France - is located in Kourou.
