The SH4130 appears to have the same inward facing beat and regulator arms as the vr3135, vr3187, vr3235, and vr3285 movements which are all from Shanghai movement factory. Per Nikz19, a watchmaker: "It (SH4130) definitely look worse.

Normally when I see the words "super" and "slim" word describing the replica 4130 it means it's the ARF which means it's actually a modified 7750 to have a slim profile. The two subdials are frozen in this movement. Thickness is close to genuine. The fully replicated 4130 is only found in the Noob Daytona.

Hi - I have a Clean Factory 4130 Movement and have been told that it accepts Gen parts. What Gen parts should I change out to improve function and feel of the movement? My goal is to make it as long lasting as possible. Some have told me that changing the 4130-142 Automatic device module and the 4130-820 Chronograph wheel are a must.
